

Law

The first-year law course at Cambridge leaves little time for reading of a general or introductory nature. Students coming to read Law at Murray Edwards are therefore strongly advised to read as much as possible of the introductory material listed below before they begin their course.

Essential Reading:

Glanville Williams, Learning the Law (14th ed. by A.T.H. Smith, published by Sweet & Maxwell).

Recommended Reading:

- Marcel Berlins and Clare Dyer, The Law Machine (Penguin)
- Helena Kennedy, Eve Was Framed: Women and British Justice (Vintage)
- Phil Harris, An Introduction to Law (Cambridge University Press)
- Allan C. Hutchinson, Is Eating People Wrong? Great Legal Cases and How They Shaped the World (esp. chapters 1, 2, 6, 8 and 10) (Cambridge University Press).
